Home Comfort Ranges!

The present century is pre-eminently one of practical progress and improvement, yet in no branch of industry have greater gains been made than in that which aids in loading the table with food perfectly prepared, one of the first and most necessary steps toward health, that boon priceless alike to prince or poor man. The brush heap probably cooked the first food, and the huge fireplace, garnished with hooks, cranes and ovens, was a giant stride in progress. It took years of patient toil to bring up to its present grade of utility the cast iron cook stove. It is now conceded most thoughtful people to have had its day of usefulness, and in every point of superiority Wrought-Iron Ranges are superceding them. Investigation, experience and practical tests have demonstrated these to be incontrovertible facts. Practical experience is potent and absolute, and by that severe test we have carefully tried every progressive step and change in the construction of our Ranges. We absolutely guarantee them to work to perfection, and they make friends everywhere. They are marvels of usefulness, and economic no less than sanitary reasons urge that they be used in every family. Wealth without health is adorned poverty, and poverty without health is misery. Good food, properly cooked, is a great factor in health, hence the necessity that all should have one of our matchless "Home Comfort" Ranges, bringing health and comfort; so that "good digestion waits on appetite, and health on both."

EL COYOTE.

A Sequel to the Salinas Tragedy
Feared at Nueva Laredo.

The Wolf at the Head of 300 Men Preparing for a Raid on the Town—His Movement the Signal for a General Uprising Among the Disreputable Classes—Horrible Atrocities Perpetrated on Women—A Reign of Terror.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

NUOVA LAREDO, MEXICO, October 6.—A new reign of terror has prevailed here for the past twenty-four hours, and hundreds of persons have fled the city. The excitement and alarm grew out of the report, brought through by a courier who has just arrived from the southern section of the republic, that the desperate and bloody brigand, "El Coyote," the Wolf, has gathered 100 of his followers together from the mountain fortresses and armed and equipped them on horseback, for the purpose of sacking this city and rescuing from prison about a dozen of his fellow murderers, who are under arrest here. Appreciating thoroughly the desperate and reckless character of El Coyote, and understanding from his recent bloody work that the threat was no idle one, a perfect panic seized possession of the populace. While it would appear that the authorities ought to be able to protect the city from this band of outlaws and murderers, especially in view of the fact that they were foremost of his visit, yet the men are known to be so reckless that, under any circumstances, bloody work is apprehended, and all who could do so have sought safety by fleeing to the American side. The authorities took steps immediately to resist the massacre, and hurried preparations are being made to meet them. Citizens generally are arming themselves, and an armed force of militia is enrolled, the men being doubly armed and provided with full supplies of ammunition. The courier who brought the alarming news also reported that intelligence has reached Baranca, about forty miles from this city, that that was the point agreed upon as a rendezvous and where they were to await the arrival of the main force and then move directly on to their work of pillage and murder in Nueva Laredo. Information was also received through the same source confirming the truth of the report that on Thursday last during the desperate fight with El Coyote's gang at Salinas, twenty persons were shot down and killed, in addition to Alcala Santos. Among the victims of this atrocious act of the outlaws was the Chief of Police, who was shot to death while fighting the ruffians bravely at the head of his forces. Three young women were also terribly maltreated, and afterward killed. The venerable father of Alcala Santos and two wealthy landowners, who participated resolutely in the support of the authorities in attempting to repel the outlaws, were also slain.

THE ATROCITIES committed by the ruffians almost surpass belief. They are all brave desperadoes, wholly unscrupulous. The outlaws were aided in their bloody work by the ruffianly elements of Salinas, who seized upon the opportunity to plunder street and dwellings, and many of them afterward joined the gang. It is feared that upon the approach of El Coyote and his band there will be an uprising of the dangerous element in this city and that the authorities may not be able to cope with the combined forces. The Chief of Police issued orders to show no quarter to the intruder, and special efforts will be made to stay the desperate leader of the gang, without whom, it is thought, the ruffians could be easily vanquished, and the band broken up. The terror shown by women is palpable. The brutal indications to which they have been subjected by the gang elsewhere are worse even than death itself, and it is not surprising to see that all who can do so are seeking safety in flight. Intelligence received late this evening says that El Coyote, with nearly 300 men, is bivouaced at Villa Idolina, some thirty-five miles below Baranca, and only twelve miles from Cuernavaca, the scene of his former attack about a year ago. This indicates that El Coyote has, for some reason, divided his forces, and is undoubtedly on the march.

UPON CUSTODIA before sweeping north with his main body. Since leaving Salinas, El Coyote's forces have been greatly augmented by struggling bandits, who gladly seek leadership under the Bloody Wolf. Some reports place the outlaws' forces as high as 300. It is questionable whether the Government forces in this section are strong enough to give battle to the insurgents. There is no longer any doubt that the recent sanguinary attack on the municipal authorities of Salinas was aided and abetted by many respectable citizens. Alcala Santos and his clique were intolerably overbearing and tyrannical. The summary vengeance visited upon Judge Santos and the Chief of Police has aroused a similar spirit of resentment in many other towns against their municipal officers. It is a notorious fact that the Alcaldes, supported by the police and federal authorities, are veritable despots, amenable to no law. Similar uprisings are therefore anticipated at other points.

ELAINE, THE BRIBER.

A Letter From Mr. Fisher-Telling the Story of the $10,000.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.
New York, October 6.—Gustav Kobbe, well known in this city, delivered an address of great force Saturday evening at a Democratic meeting at Fairfield, N. J., during which he exhibited a letter written by Warren Fisher disclosing the attempt of James G. Blaine to bribe Mr. Mulligan into a surrender of the damaging Little Rock letters. The following is that portion of the letter which refers to the attempted bribery:

"In April or May of 1880, Blaine sent word to have me meet him at Fifth Avenue Hotel. He then authorized me to get the letters from Mulligan, pay $10,000 if I could not get them for less, and then wanted Mr. M. and myself to go to Europe and remain until after the election, all at his expense. Mr. Mulligan declined the offer. He said Blaine had stolen his letters in Washington, and he never should have what he had at any price."

"You see, etc. WARREN FISHER, Windsor, Vt."
"July 12, 1884."
Mr. Kobbe made some striking remarks in reference to the letter, concluding as follows: "Is not this meeting at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, at which Mr. Blaine was branded as a thief and a liar, a companion to that famous meeting in Washington, when he went down on his knees to Blaine, and, by fraudulent representations, obtained possession of the first batch of these now famous letters?"

WEST VIRGINIA.

General Logan Makes a Brief Address at Charleston—Speaker Carlisle.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., October 1.—General John A. Logan and wife arrived here from Washington at 12 m., en route through the western part of the State. Large crowds greeted the gentleman along the route. General Logan stopped at here and made a speech to a large audience. He left two hours later. He will stop at all the towns up the Valley and through to the Virginia line. There was much enthusiasm demonstrated and firing of cannon.

Speaker John G. Carlisle passed through the city this morning, en route for Fort Pleasant, where he speaks to-day.

No Canadian cattle are to be carried on any train which conveys American livestock, nor on any train which carries livestock on any regular schedule which has been used for the transport of livestock by the United States stock market, as indicated by the inspection of the department.

MINNEAPOLIS, MARCH 22, 1904.

OTUMWA, October 26. - Mr. John A. McCondonald, a resident of Otumwa, has been appointed a private carriage driver for the New York and New England Railroad.

AN HOTEL FIRE.—The Windsor Hotel was entirely destroyed by fire this morning. The inmates narrowly escaped with their lives. George McMahon, a telegraph operator, jumped from a window on the third story and his leg was broken. A female servant was severely burned. The loss is estimated at $50,000. The fire was caused by an explosion of gas.
